B- Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)*Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:*16

Dreams are stories and pictures that our minds create while we sleep. Sometimes they are fun, strange, or even scary. But why do we dream?

When we sleep, our brain does not turn off. It keeps working, sorting through everything we saw, heard, and felt during the day. Dreams may help our brain comprehend our thoughts and feelings. They can also help us remember things or solve problems.

Some scientists believe that dreams are like movies made by our brain because they mix memories, feelings, and imagination together. They can also show how we feel inside. If you are worried, your dreams might be confusing or scary. If you are happy, your dreams might be fun. That is why you might dream about flying, talking to animals, or visiting places that you have never been before.

We usually dream during a part of sleep when our eyes move quickly. This is called "REM sleep". At this time, our brain becomes very busy, and most dreams happen then. Some people remember their dreams clearly, while others forget them quickly. It is said that if you wake up during the dream or right after it, you are more likely to remember it. But if you keep sleeping, the dream can be forgotten.

A good example of a dream that changed the world happened to Ibn Sina. He dreamed about solving a hard problem in medicine. In his dream, he saw the answer clearly. When he woke up, he wrote it down. That dream helped him understand the body better and became part of his famous book. (263)

B- Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

A grizzly bear hunts for fish in the river. A black rhinoceros runs across the plains of Africa. These animals share the Earth with us. They fascinate us with their beauty, and we love learning about their habits. But just loving them is not enough. These animals are endangered. Many of them are dying, and without special care, they may someday disappear from Earth.

Africa was once filled with plenty of wild animals, but not anymore. One of these animals, the black rhinoceros, is powerful and can be dangerous. However, its strength can't always help it to escape hunters. Many hunters kill rhinos for their valuable horns. This has caused the black rhino to be placed on the endangered species list. The elephant is also endangered and is killed for its ivory tusks.

Unfortunately, it is people who cause many of the problems that animals face. We change and pollute their habitats. We hunt them for skins, tusks, furs, and horns. We destroy animals that get in the way of farming or building. And we remove them from their natural habitats and take them home as pets.

What can you do to help endangered animals? Make an effort to support zoos and wildlife groups. You can also be a smart shopper and never buy a pet that has been raised in the wilderness. Allowing even one species on Earth to die out affects other living things and changes our world.

- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Learning a new language is an important thing that we should seek in our life. This language helps us to communicate with the other side of the world. It also gives us varied chances of jobs. Today, millions of people want to learn and improve their English but it is difficult to find the best method. Is it better to study in Britain or to study in your own country?

The advantages of going to Britain seem obvious. Firstly, you will be able to listen to the language all the time. You will be completely surrounded by the language. Another advantage is that you have to speak the language if you are with other people. In your country, it is always possible, in the class, to speak Arabic if you want to and the learning is slower.

On the other hand, there are also advantages to staying at home to study. You don't have to make big changes to your life. As well as this, it is also a lot cheaper than going to Britain. If you have a good teacher in your country, you can learn in a more concentrated way.

So, in conclusion, I think if you have enough time and enough money, the best choice is to spend some time in the UK. This is simply not possible for most people, so being here in your country is the only option available. The most important thing to do in this situation is to maximize your opportunities to use English whenever possible.

  - rarely

  - Using English inside and outside classes helps a lot in acquiring it.
  - It is impossible for learners to improve their English language.

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Cyber security is becoming increasingly important in today's digital world. Teenagers use the internet for studying, communicating, and entertainment, but not all online spaces are safe. Some websites may contain fake information, while others can attempt to steal personal data through phishing messages or online scams. To stay protected, students must develop a mindful attitude when using the internet. They should check the accuracy of information and avoid clicking on suspicious links. Teachers and families also play a key role in improving online security by explaining the risks and teaching students how to recognise dangerous behaviour. Schools consistently highlight the importance of strong passwords and safe digital habits.

Experts explain that cyber security is not merely about avoiding danger; it is also about maintaining a positive mindset while navigating the online world. When teenagers understand how to regulate their online behaviour, they benefit from a safer and more valuable digital experience. By practicing responsible choices today, students significantly improve their chances of staying secure in the future.

Read the following passage and answer the questions below:

Although it's not the longest river in America, the Rio Grande has great importance. Its location makes it important. Since 1846, it has been the official border of Texas and Mexico.

The Rio Grande is either the fourth or fifth longest river system in North America. It all depends on how it is measured. Because the river twists so much, it occasionally changes course. The river starts in Colorado and extends downward to the Gulf of Mexico. Not only does the river extend south, but it also starts in the mountains and gets lower and lower in elevation as it extends to the Gulf. Its name is Spanish for the "Big River," but the Rio Grande is known as Rio Bravo in Mexico. "Bravo" translates as furious so the name makes sense. Because of its twists and turns, it certainly does seem to be angrier than most rivers!

The Rio Grande is mostly used as a source of drinking water. Sadly, much water has been drained from the river. This is because people use more water from the river than the river can get back from rain and other sources. Parts of the river are almost dry! Experts are working to correct this, though, with hopes of restoring the river to its past strength. Today, the river is important as a source of water for Texans and Mexicans. More important, it is a symbol of cooperation between two nations. Though borders like the Rio Grande separate nations, they are also shared spaces. The Rio Grande is a symbol of friendship between two peoples.

- c) angry
- d) dry

11. The underlined pronoun “They” in the third paragraph refers to:

- a) nations
- b) borders
- c) peoples
- d) spaces

12. The river Rio Grande is one of the most important rivers in America because:

- a) it is an official border between Texas and Mexico
- b) it is the only source of drinking water in America.
- c) It starts in Colorado and extends to the Gulf of Mexico.
- d) it is a symbol of cooperation between two nations.

13. According to the passage, all the following statements are NOT TRUE except.

- a. Rivers can't be official borders between countries.
